Company Name : Vossloh AG

Company Sector : Rail Infrastructure and Technology

Operating Geography : Germany, Europe, Global

About the Company :

Vossloh AG, headquartered in Werdohl, North Rhine-Westphalia, Germany, is a rail technology firm. The Eduard Vossloh Company was established on July 11, 1888. Vossloh's core business, rail infrastructure, is served by three divisions: Core Components, Customized Modules, and Lifecycle Solutions. The Core Components branch produces industrial-scale standardised goods that are needed in large quantities for rail infrastructure. The Customized Modules division designs and manufactures rail infrastructure systems that must be customised for each customer and project. Vossloh offers installation and maintenance services. Vossloh's Lifecycle Solutions subsidiary offers track-related services. This involves long rail welding and transportation, track and switch maintenance and preventative care, and old rail reconditioning and recycling. These services also include the management of entire rail sections throughout their existence. Vossloh has received a significant order from the state rail company ARTC (Australian Rail Track Corporation) for the Inland Rail project, which is scheduled to begin in March 2022. The approximately 1,700 km railway line under construction between the Australian cities of Melbourne and Brisbane is the country's largest rail freight infrastructure project.

Vossloh's USP lies in its being the world's top rail technology firm, providing comprehensive solutions from a single source to its customers all over the world. The mission statement of Vossloh reads, "We make an important contribution to the mobility of people and the transport of commodities – safe, sustainable and environmentally friendly".
