Company Name : Bank of Ireland Group

Company Sector : Banking and Financial Services

Operating Geography : United Kingdom, Europe, Global

About the Company :

The Bank of Ireland Group is an Irish commercial bank headquartered in Dublin, Ireland. The Bank, which has long been Ireland's primary banking institution, holds a unique place in the country's banking history. The Bank of Ireland first opened its doors on June 25, 1783, in Mary's Abbey, in a private home previously owned by Charles Blakeney. The Group offers a wide range of financial services to individuals, businesses, industries, and agriculture. Checking and deposit accounts, overdrafts, term loans, mortgages, international asset finance, leasing, instalment credit, debt financing, foreign currency facilities, interest and exchange rate hedging products, and executor and trustee services are some of the services offered by the bank. It also has a presence in Northern Ireland, where it makes its Pound Sterling banknotes. It also serves the British Post Office and AA Savings in the United Kingdom. Bank of Ireland Corporate Banking, which has offices in France, Germany, Spain, and the United States, is principally responsible for operations throughout the rest of the world. In June 2022, Bank of Ireland completed acquisition of J&E Davy Stockbrokers for 427 million which is projected to improve the combined services offered to its corporate clients and create more room for expansion.

Bank Of Ireland's Unique Selling Point or USP lies in it being specializing in retail and commercial banking, as well as being one of Ireland's top four banks. The mission statement of Bank Of Ireland reads, "We are empowered to take ownership and trusted to do the right thing to support our customers, colleagues and communities. We lead by example and challenge ourselves and each other to do our best work at all times".
