Company Name : Celestica Inc.

Company Sector : Electronic Components

Operating Geography : Canada, North America, Global

About the Company :

Celestica Inc. is a multinational Canadian electronics manufacturing services (EMS) business with its main office in Toronto, Ontario. Eugene Polistuk, the company's former chief executive officer, was primarily responsible for Celestica's inception and ascent to prominence. Politik began negotiations with IBM in 1992, and in January 1994, Celestica Inc. was founded. Advanced Technology Solutions (ATS) and Connectivity & Cloud Solutions are the company's two business divisions (CCS). The ATS end market, which includes the A&D, Industrial, Energy, HealthTech, and Capital Equipment businesses, makes up the ATS section. The semiconductor, display, and power & signal distribution equipment industries make up its capital equipment business. End markets in the CCS segment that contribute the most to revenue are communications and enterprise. In June 2022, the organization announced that Corporate Knights, a group that promotes ethical business practices, had named it one of Canada's top corporate citizens for the year 2022.

Celestica's USP lies in its being the pioneer in providing supply chain, manufacturing, and design solutions to the most creative businesses worldwide. The mission statement of the company reads, "We are imagining, developing and delivering a better future with our customers".
