Company Name : Oji Holdings Corporation

Company Sector : Paper products, Food containers, Energy

Operating Geography : Japan, Asia, Global

About the Company :

Oji Holdings Corporation is a Japanese company headquartered in Tokyo that makes paper goods. Industrialist Shibusawa Eiichi established the company as Shoshi Kaisha on February 12th, 1873. Household and industrial materials, functional materials, marketing for forests and the environment, printing and communications media, and others are the segments through which it operates. Containerboard, corrugated containers, boxboard, packing papers, folding cartons, paper bags, and domestic goods are all included in the section for household and industrial materials. The category of functional materials includes speciality and thermal sheets, adhesives, and films. The category of Forest Resources and Environment Marketing encompasses the pulp, energy, and timber sectors. The printing and communications media industry include materials used for communications, publishing, printing, and newsprint. The Others group includes the industries of real estate, engineering, trading, and logistics. In July 2022, Oji was chosen for inclusion in the fourth consecutive year of the FTSE Blossom Japan Index and the globally renowned FTSE4Good Index Series.

The company's unique selling proposition is that it is one of the largest companies in the world's forest, paper, and packaging industries and that its stock is traded on the Tokyo Stock Exchange and is a component of the Nikkei 225 stock index. The mission statement of the company reads, "We will strive to offer “innovative value” that fulfills the society's latent needs by swiftly grasping the change in values across broad fields of the society and promoting the “challenging manufacturing” with novel ideas”.
