Company Name : Spirit Airlines Inc.

Company Sector : Aviation

Operating Geography : United States, North America, Global

About the Company :

Spirit Airlines Inc. is a low-cost airline based in Miramar, Florida, in the Miami metropolitan area. The company was formed in 1993. It serves over 50 locations in the United States and the Caribbean. Spirit Airlines' fleet consists of Airbus narrow-bodied planes. It primarily provides unbundled base fares to customers, removing any unnecessary travel amenities. Customers can pay extra for additional options if they require them. Due to the lack of a complex fleet, flight crews are interchangeable across all aircraft, and maintenance and other support services are simplified. Due to the state of people who travel on Spirit Airlines, the frequent-flyer programme is known as Free Spirit. Spirit's frequent flyer programme is divided into three levels. The three grades are Free Spirit Member, Silver (earn 2,000 status qualifying points in a calendar year), and Gold (earn 5,000 status qualifying points in a calendar year). Due to its system-wide route structure, the corporation only has one operating segment: air transportation. When a market is underserved or overvalued, it may decide to expand its network. The United States accounts for the vast majority of revenue. As of 2022, Spirit Airlines is the first airline to announce flights from the United States to the new Palmerola International Airport, which is around 110 kilometres (68 miles) from the Honduran capital Tegucigalpa.

Spirit Airlines, Inc.'s USP lies in its being North America's eighth-largest passenger carrier as well as the continent's largest ultra-low-cost carrier. The mission statement of Spirit Airlines reads, "Spirit Airlines is committed to delivering the best value in the sky while providing an extraordinary Guest experience. We are the leader in providing customizable travel options starting with an unbundled fare".
