Company Name : Naspers

Company Sector : Technology, Internet and Media Group

Operating Geography : Cape Town, Africa, Global

About the Company :

Naspers Limited is a Cape Town-based South African multinational internet, technology, and multimedia holding company with holdings in online shopping, publishing, and venture capital investing. Naspers' primary shareholder is Prosus, a Dutch listed investment business that holds around 49% of its parent as part of a cross ownership arrangement. Naspers, founded in 1915 by attorney W. A. Hofmeyr, was South Africa's largest publishing business during the twentieth century, having holdings in newspapers, magazines, and books. In the 1980s, the corporation began to diversify, offering a subscription television service and investing for the first time outside of South Africa. Naspers made an early investment in Chinese technology giant Tencent in 2001, and the company has since been increasingly focused on the global consumer internet industry. Naspers owns or has invested in various other big global brands like PayU, OLX, MakemyTrip, etc. As of early 2023, Naspers employed over 35,000 people.

The USP of Naspers is that it is one of the largest global internet and entertainment group in the world. The mission statement of Naspers reads, “We believe in the power of local backed by global scale and we look for opportunities to address big societal needs in markets where we see the greatest growth potential.”
