About the Company : Tableau Software is a data visualization software company founded in January 2003 in California, USA. The company is currently headquartered in Seattle, Washington, USA. Tableau functions to help people see and understand data. The company began with three guys from Stanford, a brilliant computer scientist, an academy award-winning professor and a savvy business professional with a passion for data. They came together to solve the most challenging part of a business which most professionals were struggling with, the Tableau was formed to make data understandable, usable, functional for ordinary person. Tableau uses its product which enables them not just listening to customer gap but living them. The company focuses on providing business intelligence solution to its clients across various domains. Currently, the Tableau is operational globally with its physical offices in US/Canada, Asia Pacific, EMEA. As of early 2019, Tableau had 4,181 full-time employees globally.

On August, 2019, Salesforce, the global leader in CRM, announced it had completed its acquisition of Tableau Software, rejoicing the marriage between the world's #1 CRM with the world's #1 analytics platform. Under the umbrella of Salesforce, Tableau will be strongly placed to accelerate and expand its mission to help people visualize and comprehend data. Tableau will run independently under the Tableau brand, driving forward a continued focus on its mission, customers and community.

“Today marks the beginning of an exciting new chapter for Tableau, one where we will be able to accelerate our mission and help more people than ever see and understand data,” said Adam Selipsky, President and CEO of Tableau. “As part of Salesforce we will deliver more value to customers faster with a broader and deeper analytics platform, fueled by Salesforce’s customer intelligence platform. We are thrilled to embark on a journey with Salesforce that will, undoubtedly, transform organizations around the world by putting data at the center of the digital revolution.”

Tableau Software’s mission statement reads “We help people see and understand data. Seven words that drive everything we do.” Tableau Software’s USP or unique selling proposition lies in being the industry leader in the Analytics and Business Intelligence Platform.
