About the Company : TripAdvisor, Inc. is an American based Travel and restaurant website company founded by Stephen Kaufer, Langley Steinert, Nick Shanny, and Thomas Palka in February 2000. The company initially focused more on official data from newspaper, magazine etc., and they also had a button where people could add their own experiences and reviews. That instantly took off and they later made their business model around hotel and restaurant reviews, accommodation bookings and other travel-related content, also including interactive travel forums. It was one of the early adapters of user generated content and went on to become the largest social travel website with more than 830 million reviews of hotels, restaurants, attractions and other travel-related businesses. To ensure that the travelers find the best prices for their booking, it compares prices from over 200 websites and presents the best ones to the consumers. It is a free of cost information provider, has a hotel reservation facility and advertising business model funds the website. TripAdvisor is now available in 49 markets and 28 languages. The motto of the company is Know better. Book better. Go better.
